the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million (1990–1999) and is projected to increase by a further 1.5 million by 2010 (Office of National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to develop strategies to meet the needs of the ageing population. The Department of Health (2000) has identified the need to develop a 'new paradigm' for the care of the elderly, one that is based on the concept of 'active ageing'. This paradigm is based on the idea that older people should be able to live independently, to participate in social and community activities, and to maintain their physical and mental health. The Department of Health (2000) has identified a number of key areas for action, including: (1) the need to improve the physical and mental health of older people; (2) the need to improve the social and community participation of older people; and (3) the need to improve the independence of older people.

Going the Extra Mile

Just what does it mean to go the extra mile? The expression comes from a lesson Jesus taught His disciples: "If someone forces you to go one mile, go with him two miles. Give to the one who asks you, and do not turn away from the one who wants to borrow from you." Matthew 6:41-42 (NIV).

"Life is a series of complicated paths with numerous ups and downs. Don't be afraid to be yourself and create a path of your own. High school is too short, so it's best to enjoy every moment."

College: Franciscan University of Steubenville

5. Kathryn Kantor

"Try not to care about what other people think of you. Follow your own path and discover the bliss of being happy with the simple things. And try to learn the importance of a smile."

College: Franciscan University of Steubenville

6. Stephanie Limjoco

"No matter how difficult it may seem, at any time, try to take each day in stride; don't stress too much. Four years can transpire in a surprisingly short period of consciousness."

College: Case Western Reserve University

7. Alexander Skozen

"Spend every day in high school like it's your last. These four years will be over in the blink of an eye; you don't have a whole lot of time to waste, so make the most of it."

College: New York University

8. Patricia Ramsay

"Andrean has been a unique experience. I had some pretty amazing times here and wouldn't trade them for the world. Just be yourself. Don't worry about what others think because it will ruin all the fun."

College: Purdue University West Lafayette

9. Stephanie Strnatka

"The best advice I can give to underclassmen is to put yourself out there. Make new friends, and be open to new experiences. Enjoy your time in high school because it goes by extremely fast."

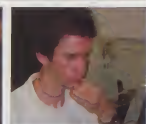

College: Indiana University Bloomington

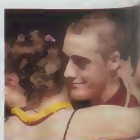

10. Nicholas Howard

"Have fun, make new friends, and expose yourself to new things. Make Andrean the best four years of your life because it will go by quickly when you realize."

College: DePaul University

What's Hot ...Technology

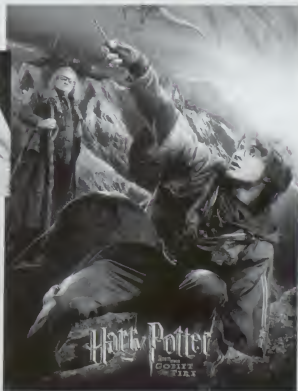

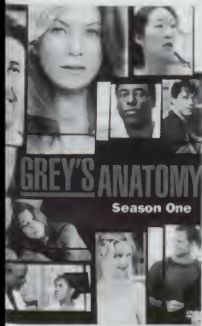

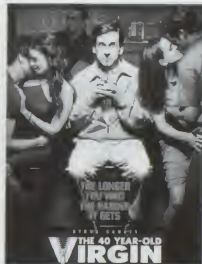

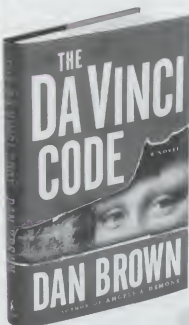

Technology was big in the years 2005-2006. Thin was in. New items such as the I-Pod Nano and the Razr cell phone offered consumers sleek devices that weighed almost nothing. Some people also enjoyed combining appliances. Items such as the Sidekick provided the use of the internet plus a cellular device. Game systems also got a change of look. The XBOX 360 and the PSP were hot items during Christmas.

ROOM 30

Andres Ramirez looks up from his studies for a moment.

Future Scrabble champions at work.

What really goes on after school in Room 30?

Stanley Henderson stays cool after school.

Hey, Angel Vega and Reyna Holloway! Aren't you supposed to be inside the room?

Robert Phillips, Joshua Spence, and Devon Williams are on their way out.

REALLY RANDOM SHOTS

Left: Mrs. Betty Yurechko retires after many years of faithful service.

Can you believe it?

Above: A Port-a Potty on the roof?
Maybe the senior prank was just a little late.

Right: Name this famous English teacher who occasionally mentions eight-balls.

Below: It seems that some students think there's a shortcut to Heaven.

Below Right: Actual schoolwork being done (thank-you Jessica Davis).

... and so it ends

This year we have experienced many good and bad times together. All the friendships that were gained, the many sports games "super-fanning", all the dances. Andean is the place where these good times were experienced. Although some will go off to bigger and better places, they will always carry the memories of Andean.

"So...

be your name (Gurebaum or Beebe or Bray
or Mordkhai Ali Van Allen O'Shea, you're off to Great Places!
Today is your day!
Your mountain is waiting.
So get on your way!"

Special Thanks To:

All the people who helped with the surveys, and everyone who spent hours in the lab during the school year and the summer. Special thanks to Mr. Aaron Mitchell, Ms. Stacia Bolakowski, Mr. Phillip Page, and Mr. John Bir, who answered countless questions, and to Mrs. Petra Steele, who cleared up the mystery of what "Decussata" really means. Our thanks also to Mrs. Donna Bombassaro for excellent tech support.
